

Leave satellite radio alone, its the best thing that happened to the radio in a long time. Spend the money you spend to get rid of XM on something better. You know there are starving people all over the world.